

11-006

RECEIVED

JUN 03 2011

HEALTH FACILITIES & SERVICES REVIEW BOARD

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Spencer Martin
Spencer Martin
3230 Maple Leaf Drive
Glennview IL 60026

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Cindy Time
2126 Ruger #B
Glenview, ILL
60026

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Kat Matassarini

Kat Matassarini

2010 Mallard Drive

Northbrook, IL

60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

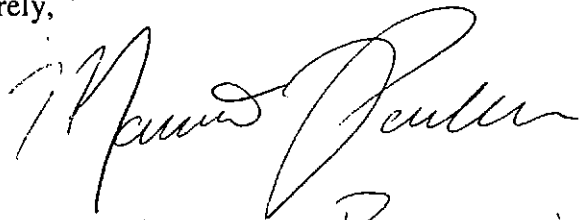

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

MARISSA PERLMAN

2418 SARANAC LANE

GLENNVIEW, IL.

60026

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Jennifer Lewin
2301 SUSSEX LN.
NORTHBROOK, IL, 60062

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

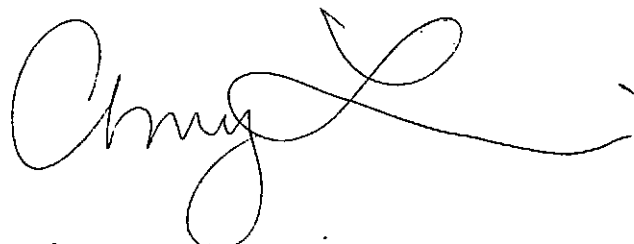

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Amy Lewin
2301 Sussex Lane
Northbrook, IL 60062

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Matthew R. Lewin
Matthew R. Lewin
2301 Sussex Lane
Northbrook, IL 60062

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Daniel Lewis
2301 Sussex Lane
Northbrook, IL
60062

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Karen Martin

Karen Martin
3230 Maple Leaf Drive
Glenview, IL 60026

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Alyx Martin
Alyx Martin
3230 Maple Leaf Dr.
Glenview, IL
60026

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Ramschack
Ramschack
2312 Greenwood
Glenview, IL
60026

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Darlene E. McGlendon
DARLENE E. MCGLENDON
3606 N. SPRINGFIELD
CHICAGO, ILL 60618

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

DIANE SACHS
2311 SUSSEX LN
NORTHBROOK, IL
60062

(847) 710-6625

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Nadine Lee
Nadine Lee
1588 E. Citadel CT.
Palatine, IL 60074

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Scott Margolin
2360 Arboleda Lane
Northbrook, IL
60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Lori Margolin
Lori Margolin
2360 Arbelada Lane
Northbrook, IL 60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Sherry C. Goldstein
2255 Castilian Cr.
Northbrook, IL 60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Kimberly Johnson
1540 Church Street,
Northbrook, IL 60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Karly Sachs

KARLY SACHS

2311 SUSSEX LN NORTHBROOK IL
60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Betsy Gerrish Johnson
Betsy Gerrish Johnson
1540 Church St.
Northbrook, IL
60062

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community...
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities--

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

M. Krupp
Melanie Krupp
1610 Greenwood Dr.
Mt. Prospect, IL 60056

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Donna Wittert

Donna Wittert
2640 Appletree Ln
Northbrook IL 60062

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

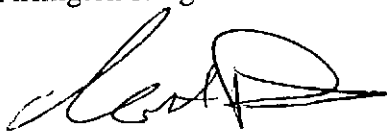

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Chuck Doolittle

895 NEBEL LAKE
DES PLAINES, IL
60018

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Maxine G. Doolittle 5/22/2011
Maxine G. Doolittle
845 Nebel Lane
Des Plaines, IL 60018

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Kate Zera

Kate Zera
3838 Carusel Dr.
Northbrook, IL
60062

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

-- all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Shannon Vnaucek
Shannon Vnaucek
1902 W. BeAcau Gdn
Chicago, IL 60613
847.630.4275

Rachel Perry
Rachel Perry
833 W. Buena #402
Chicago, IL 60613
630-291-4635

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents-including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Betsy Colon 3851 W. 67th place, Chicago, IL. 60629
Betsy Colon 773-581-5523

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all-residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Theresa Annunzio
Theresa Annunzio
1880 W. Burton
Pk Ridge, IL 60068 847 828-522

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

SARA CARNET

5824 W DIVERSEY

773 745 8089

" 622 3800

Sara Carnet

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all-of-which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Lynn Banasik
LYNN BANASIK
5305 W. Warner
Chgo IL 60641
773-286-2947

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid-recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

ATHANASIA ALEXANDER
41851 N. WASHTEAWAY AVE.
CHICAGO, IL. 60625, 773 271-0378
Athanasia Alexander

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Suzanne Lee
6740 Octavia Ave
Chicago IL 60631

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Alfred Rocks
Alfred Rocks
4315 N. Spaulding,
Chicago, IL 60618
773-556-4882

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Kristen McKernin
Kristen McKernin
5300 N Austin
Chicago IL
630-664-1561

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

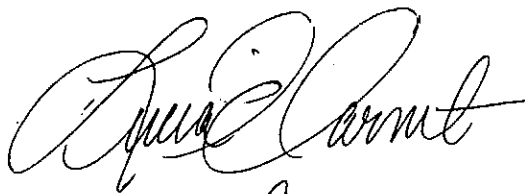

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid-recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

LUCIA CARNET
5824 W. DIVERSEY
CHGO. IL 60639
(773) 745-8089

MAY 27, 2010

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

SPIROS P. KISLOS Spiros Proano
8812 N. PLEASANT
MORTON GROVE, IL. 60053
(847) 962-2094

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

RODNEY MOON
1207 WEST 112TH STREET
CHICAGO, IL
(773) 565-8371

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

FRANK TESINSKY
Jesse Turner
4922 N. TRIPP AVE.
CHGO, ILL. 60630

773-391-7793

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Megan Hall Megan Hall

6237 N. Karlov Chicago, IL 60646

773-628-7382

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Barbara Paul-Keating
BARBARA GRASL-KEATING
4117 N. Kedzie
773-478-5180

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Mary Ann Dardugno
Mary Ann Dardugno
4842 W. Kelpatrick
Chicago, IL 60630

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

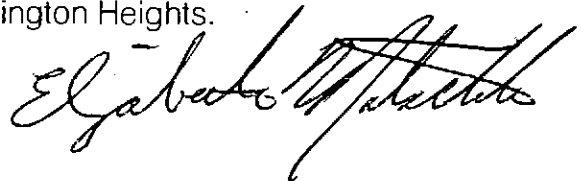

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Elizabeth Matschke
6124 N. Avers Ave
Chicago IL 60659

773-583-1384

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Kevin Cameron
Kevin Cameron

4746 S. Ingleside BNF

113-396-6999

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Cami Annunzio

5156 N. Long Ave

Chgo, IL 60630

773-848-2068

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

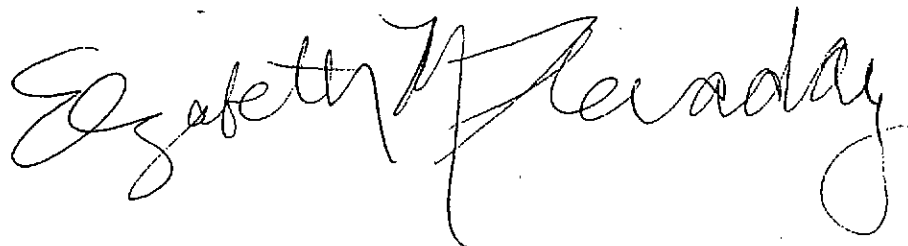

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

1443 W Fletcher
Chicago, IL 60657

(414) 351-1795

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid-recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

MARY MENDOZA
7657 W. VICTORIA
CHICAGO, IL 60631

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

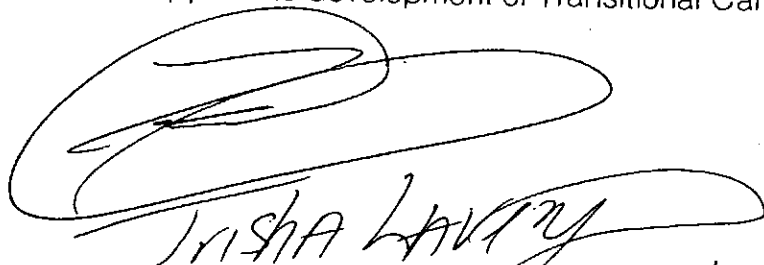

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid-recipients;
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Trisha Lavery
3730 N. Kedvale
Chicago Il. 60647

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Franklin J. Clark

5444 N. Lotus Ave
Chicago, IL 60630

773 540-3493

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Cynthia Diaz

7721 Westwood Dr.
Elmwood Park IL 60707
(773)531-4548

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

PAULA JACCO
Paula Jacco
1629 W. Greenleaf Unit 106
773-465-8954

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all-of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

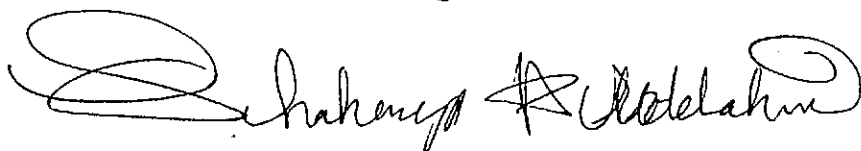

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Shahenaz Abdelrahim

5300 N. Austin

Chicago IL. 60630

224-388-2318

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including-Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Jayne LeTemp
J LeTemp
360 W. Wellington Ave. #10E
Chicago IL 60657
815 985 1458

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

—all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

REN F. MULLEN

6027 N. Kimball Ave
Chicago, IL

773-463-7339

Ren F. Mullen

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Robert Kerman
Robert Kerman
811 E. Olive St.
ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, IL
60004
847-797-9073

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

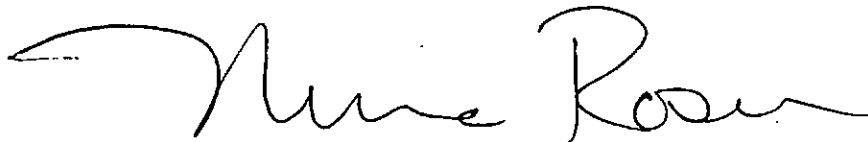

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

2143 N. Bell
Chicago IL. 60647

773 862-3834

To Whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

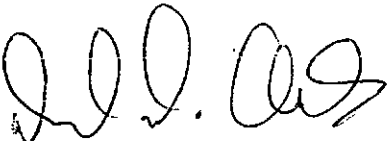

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid-recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. TCM will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

David Andries
217 S. Ridgeland Ave
Oak Park, IL 60302
708-948-7415

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

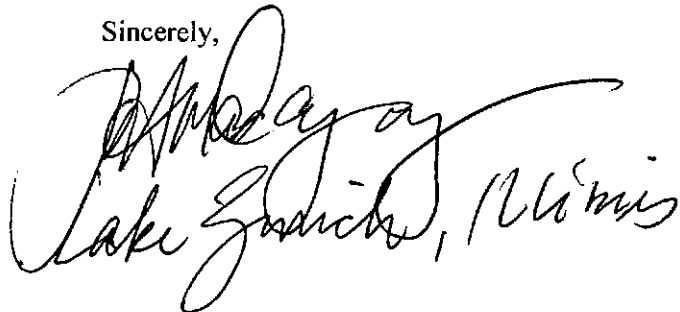

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Mike Zandich, Illinois

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Wheeling ILLINOIS

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

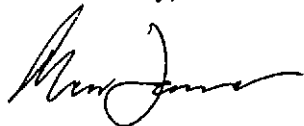

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL JAMES

PALOS HEIGHTS IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Mark Turchik
Arlington Heights IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

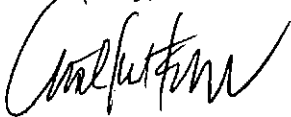

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

CRISTINA FILIPPO

1 ITASCA PLACE

ITASCA IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Craig J. Dine
Homewood Park, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Mary Granzow
Mt. Prospect

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely, Andy Paltane

323 S OAK

PALTANE 60067

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

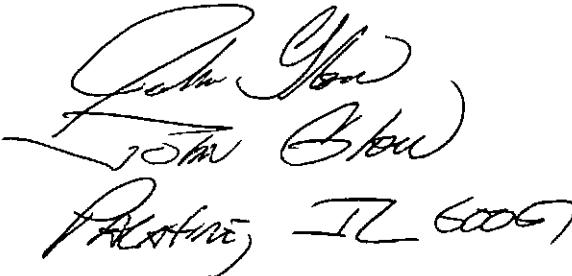

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

John Blum
Arlington, IL 60007

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

WAYNE SOMMER
HANOVER PARK, IL 60133

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

CAROLYN GLOW
PALATINE, IL.

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

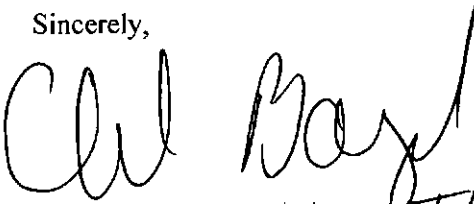

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Arlington Hts, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Suzanne M. Sullivan
Mt. Prospect, IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Beth Metzler
4020 Chester Dr.
Glenview, IL 60026

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Penny Ruder
912 S Seminary
Park Ridge, IL 60068

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Jina Q. Fox

1912 E. Kiawa Ln

Mt Prospect IL 60056

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Gary A. Fry
1912 E. Kiowa Ln
Mt Prospect, IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Shelley Wax RN
3226 Maple Leaf Dr.
Glennau IL 60026

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

David A. Max
3226 Maple Leaf Dr.
Oakview, IL 60026

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

3861 Sally Ct
Glenview IL 60025

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Fran Lubelchek
3030 Lulu
Northbrook, IL
60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Susan Friedman".

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Michael Claus 3140 Maple Leaf Dr. Franklin, IL 60026

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Julie Stone
Julie Stone

2743 Dayton

Chicago, IL 60614
Jas

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Alice Berger
4151 N. Paulina
Chicago, IL 60613

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Rachel Belkman
2515 W. Patterson
Chicago, IL
60613

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Iana Craven

3140 Maple Leaf Drive
Glennview, IL 60020

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Clanna Jacobson
2118 Inverness
Glenview IL 60026

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Diana Goldberg
830 Wagner St.
Glenview, IL 60025
847. 730-3437

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Sherril Morris
2206 Strawberry Ln.
Glenview, IL 60026
847-562-0881

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "W. G. Smith", written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

403 Beech Drive
Arlington Heights, IL 60025

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Lynne Sorokin
3804 Joanne Dr.
Glenview, IL 60020
847.559.2881

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

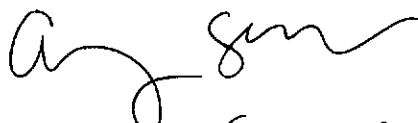

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Amy Gerns

2342 Indian Ridge Dr
Glenview, IL 60026

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

S. F. 3 ([Signature]) (Susan McClanahan)
1216 Longvalley Rd.
Glenview, IL 60025

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

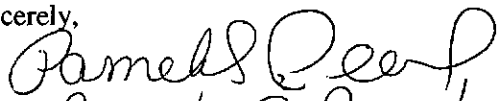

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Pamela S. Pearl
3821 Lizette Lane
Glenview, IL 60026

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Joel Rodriguez
Joel Rodriguez

Chicago, Ill.

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Jose A Rodriguez
Jose A Rodriguez
Chicago, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

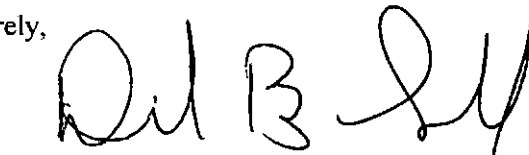

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

David B Small
CHICAGO IL.

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Kenneth Johnson
Des Plaines, Ill
60016

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Marlene Johnson
Dee Plannell

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Kin KLANGE
~~20425~~ MOUNT PROSPECT
IL,

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

MOUNT PROSPECT
LAURA LANG

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Richard Wells
Invaness, Inc

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

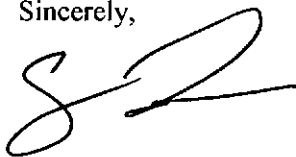

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Cory Lepinski
Des Plaines IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Christine Pacheco
Chicago Ridge IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

WJ Richmond
William L. Richmond
Aurora, IL. 60506

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Joy Richmond
Batavia, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

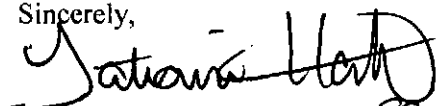

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Tatiana Haffey
Mt. Prospect, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Julie Ergastolo
Mt. Prospect

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Pasquale Erga
Mt. Prospect IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

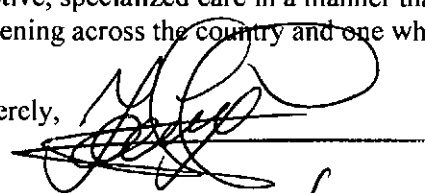

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Lane E Barber
Skokie.

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Otilia Baban

Skokie, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Otilia Baban
Otilia Baban
SKOKIE IL 60077

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

ALEX BACIA
MORTON GROVE IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Corina Avram

Barrington IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Lucy Barcia
Morton Grove, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Diana Avram

Barrington IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

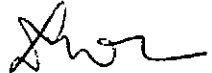

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

ILEANA MOUNAR
SKOKIE

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

DOMITRU MOLNAR
SKOKIE.

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

MARCEL MURESAN

CHICAGO, IL

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Jonel Pop
Skokie

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Nicole Brzud
Skokie

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

David Gilca
CHICAGO

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Janet L. Lica
Chicago

To whom it may concern,

I am in favor of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights because it will offer:

- a welcome, innovative alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care.
- a non-denominational care alternative.
- a dedicated focus on post-acute care rehabilitation that is missing in other settings.
- higher staffing ratios that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians and hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.

In addition, although there are other fine facilities in the market, none are specifically built for a short-term stay population. Transitional Care will offer:

- Primarily private rooms with private baths
- Home-like furnishings
- Optional patios
- Comfortable accommodations for guests
- Dining options
- Thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer privacy
- Gracious hospitality and
- Signature, spa-like amenities

all of which help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

CARE CHOICE HOME HEALTH
7040 LINCOLN AVE. STE 103
SKOKIE, IL 60077

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

*Kan Martin
Senior Helpers
1165 N. Clark #410
Chicago, IL 60610*

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Gail Niksich

GAIL NIKSICH

print

7318 N. Keystone

Lindwood, IL 60712

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

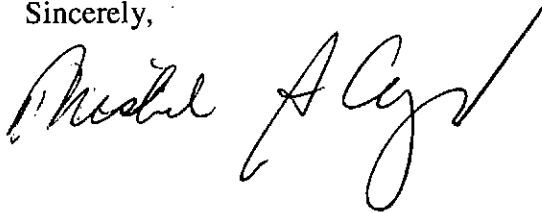

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL CALOGERO
924 W. AGATITE
CHICAGO IL 60640

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

5/17/2011

Christy Essau

3652 n. Fremont
Chicago IL 60613

addn.

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Heidi L Stone

Heidi L Stone

*3116 N. Southport
Chicago, IL 60657*

To whom it may concern,

Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a hotel/spa-like setting. TCM offers a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home. I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project for these reasons:

A Defined Need

According to the most recent Long-term Care Bed Inventory Report, there is a defined need for 891 beds of this kind in the 7A planning area. This report is further supported by documented occupancy reports from the area's quality provider that shows occupancy in excess of 95%.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Higher Staffing Ratios

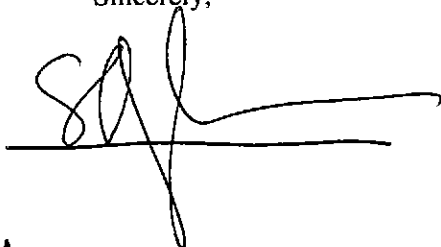

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average, which translates to better response times, enhanced communication and better overall patient experiences.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing this new alternative, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country and one whose time has come here in Illinois.

Sincerely,

Signe Gleason
print

Address:

15 S Waukeet
Naperville, IL 60540

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

Jeffrey Craven
ADT Security Services
Commercial Account Executive
111 Windsor Drive
Oak Brook, IL 60523

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Joan G. Lewin
Joan G. Lewin
2301 Sussex Lane
Northbrook, IL
60062

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high-acuity-patients-who-are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

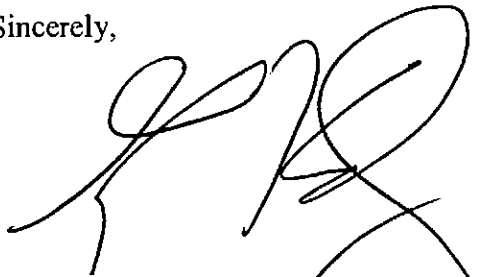

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'J. R. [unclear]', written in a cursive style.

2316 BOULDER CT
NAPERVILLE, IL 60565

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Brian Speck

428 W. Webster

Unit A

Chicago, IL 60614

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals—"sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

DON MILLER

Chicago, IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital-care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

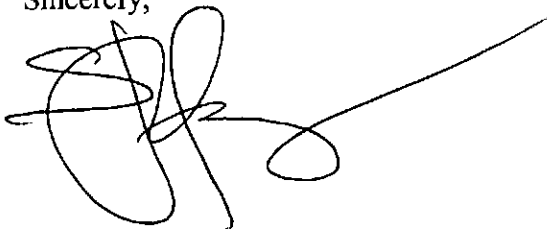

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'Arlington HS', written over a horizontal line.

ARLINGTON HS. IL 60004

Das Plaines,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Das Plaines, IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Carmela Miller
1302 N. 23rd Ave
Melrose Park, IL 60160

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be a woman's name, written in a cursive style.

Merrillville, IN 46410

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high-acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Terri Bennett
Elmhurst, IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Eric Gutierrez

Chicago, IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity-patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Carissa Vignocchi

~~Carissa~~

North Riverside, IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting .

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Arlington HTS RESIDENT

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Ann Youngman". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Sally Agner
Arlington Hts. resident

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Robert Goldstein
Wheeling, Ill

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Glenview IL, 60025.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Blanca Sute B.G. RES.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Norma Schaffer Glenview

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Ollie Wehler
Arlington Hgts. Resident

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Martha Miles - Tankovics
1152 N. Hickory Ave.
Arlington Hts, 60004

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

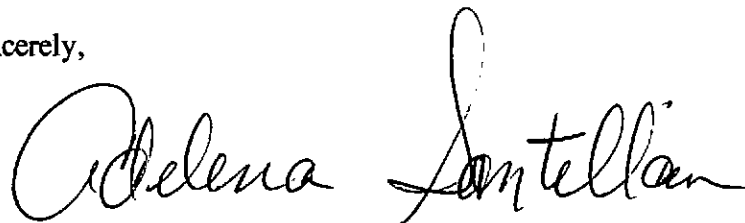

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Adelena Santellan". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, looping initial 'A'.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Mary Ardame

Mt. Prospect

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "M. Yano". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large initial "M" and a long, sweeping tail.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 6276

To whom it may concern,

As a local resident, I am concerned about the availability of quality options for our residents, particularly as they relate to the availability of health care. Ensuring that we have not only adequate but top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services in our community is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will help address a specific and under-served need in our community and help round out our complement of fine medical services.

Additionally, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights would be a welcome answer to our acute vacant real estate issue and will also provide about 100 full and part-time jobs to our residents. I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Name Lee Williams
Address Arlington Hts IL
60004

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 6276

To whom it may concern,

As a local resident, I am concerned about the availability of quality options for our residents, particularly as they relate to the availability of health care. Ensuring that we have not only adequate but top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services in our community is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will help address a specific and under-served need in our community and help round out our complement of fine medical services.

Additionally, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights would be a welcome answer to our acute vacant real estate issue and will also provide about 100 full and part-time jobs to our residents. I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Name
Address

John DePaolo
1219 W. Rand
Arlington Hts, IL
60004

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Errol Cutler

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Rochel Gutler

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

681 THOR-GATE LANE
RIVERWOODS, IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Marlene Gutmann
684 Thorngate Lane
Riverwoods, IL. 60015

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME BRET S. KINNAMON

ADDRESS 748 DARTMOUTH DR. ISLANA LAKE IL. 60042

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 800 "beds" of this kind
- Innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

Beth Bartlett
322 La Roche Ave
Northfield, IL 60093

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

Donna J. McKenzie
924 Shady Tree Lane; Wheeling, IL 60090

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 800 "beds" of this kind
- Innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

Marafelle Curtin (J. Marafelle Curtin)
325 Romona Rd. Wilmette IL 60091

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation.
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Lynn Pearson

ADDRESS

1230 Anthony Road, Wheeling, IL 60090

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Mary M Solke
ADDRESS 410 BARRINGTON Rd #68 WAUCONOA, IL 60084

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Kathleen Lane

ADDRESS

2108 Spring Creek Lane MacHenry, Ill

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- Innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Patricia Reed (Patricia Reed)

ADDRESS 1422 Royal Ct, Elgin, IL 60123

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Sandra Fernandez

ADDRESS 1113 S Parkside Dr - South Elgin, IL 60120

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- Innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Carol Walsh

ADDRESS

1489 S. Pembroke Dr Selgin IL 60177

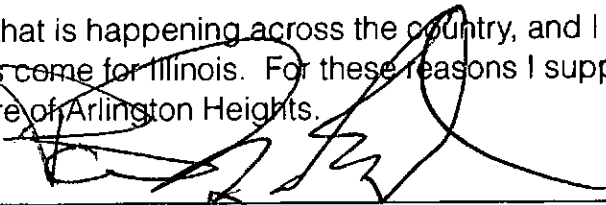

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- Innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

1422 ROYAL CT ELEM 60123

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME _____

ADDRESS 735 South Evergreen Ave. Arlington Heights, IL. 60005

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Thomas E. Allman

ADDRESS

518 South Dunton Ave, Arlington Heights, IL 60005

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Robert Reed

ADDRESS

1255 Royal BL Elgin, IL 60123

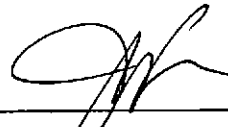

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Julie Figurski

ADDRESS

2605 Orchard Beach Rd, Melhany 1460850

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Diana Stoykova [Signature]

ADDRESS

737 Dulles Rd # B Des Plaines IL 60016

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME JOHN L. MILES

ADDRESS 2218 WINDING CREEK DRIVE
BELVILLE, IL 61008

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME E. Michalik

ADDRESS 10365 ALORIOVE HUNTLEY, IL 60142

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's defined need for over 800 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals for top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME John Carlson

ADDRESS 168 Timber Trails Blvd Gilberts, IL 60136

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

5-20-11

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

6 NR66 SZILAGYI

1660 BERKLEY DEERFIELD IL

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high-acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

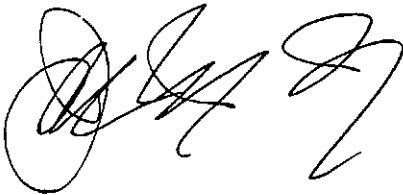

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied; only serve acute needs; are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

931 WAYNE

DEERFIELD, IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high-acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

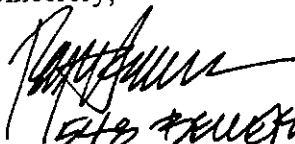

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

BOB KUCERA
6X16 PARK IL 60302

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,
Sheila Moss
342 Margate Terrace
Deerfield, IL. 60015

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Sheila Moss". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the typed name and address.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,
William Moss
342 Margate Terrace
Deerfield, IL. 60015

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'William Moss', written in a cursive style with a long horizontal tail.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

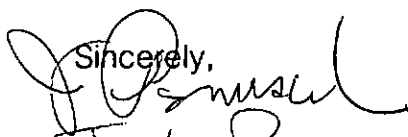

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Jackie Parnacek
728 Fox Hunt Trail
Deerfield IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Nina Boorstein
441 Fairfield Ln
Riverwoods, IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth J. Meerberg
Beth Greenberg
455 Somerset Hills Ct.
Riverwoods, Il. 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

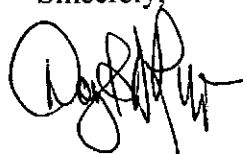

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

2223 Woodland Ln-N.
Riverwoods, IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

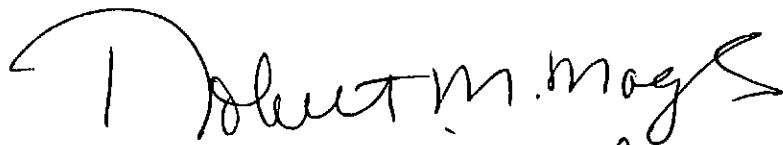

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

1304 Carlisle pl.
Deerfield, Ill

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

13 Broadleys Ct.
Bannockburn IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Jessamy Holdrege
1335 E Canton Ct.
Deerfield, IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

1243 Hazel Ave
Deerfield, IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

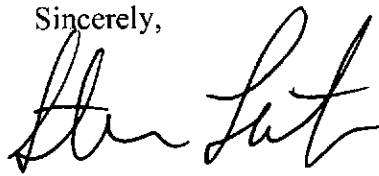

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

1332 Hackberry
Deerfield IL 60015

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I support the Transitional Care of Arlington Heights project.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

1332 Hackberry
Deerfield IL 60015

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Bruce Hinsh

ADDRESS 800 E. Dodge Evanston

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Betty Carr

ADDRESS 1200 E. State, Geneva IL 60134

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Sarah Niedrich

ADDRESS 2675 Gable Gables IL 60436

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Marina Colton

ADDRESS

40 Bosworth Dr, Glendale Heights
60139

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

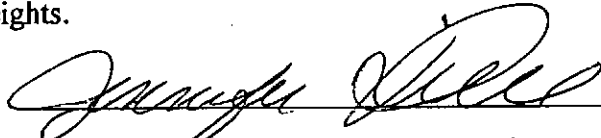

NAME Kevin Carney
ADDRESS 545 Belmont Lane Carol Stream IL 60888

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

6220 Kingsbridge Cary 60013

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME KARA DANL

ADDRESS 6430 W Bryn Mawr Ave #800
Chicago IL 60631

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Susan Galassini Susan Galassini

ADDRESS 2105 Rose Ct., Schaumburg IL 60194

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME TRACY HOOVER

ADDRESS 1315. PARK ST. ROSELLE, IL 60172

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Jerry Sepp

ADDRESS

1827 Concord Dr. Glendale Heights, IL
60139

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights

NAME

Maura Shue - Comfort Keepers

ADDRESS

310 N. Wolf Rd. Wheeling IL 60090

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Haley Ostrander, John D. Keller & Associates
ADDRESS 125 S. Bloomingdale Rd., Ste. 11 Ltd.
Bloomingdale, IL 60108

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Patricia Ostrander

ADDRESS 430 Pennsylvania Ave — Dupage Medical
Glenn Ellyn, IL 60139 Group

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Julie Nrestand

ADDRESS 27 S. Waiola Ave
La Grange IL 60525

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Rebecca Greeley

ADDRESS

430 S PARK ST - Roselle IL 60172

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Shelly Valenzi

ADDRESS 325 Stark Port Lane, Schaumburg IL 60193

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME JACK ORLOV

ADDRESS 1207 Hidden Lake Dr. Buffalo Grove, IL. 60089

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Alan Kushner Alan Kushner
ADDRESS 1416 Churchill Rd. Schaumburg, IL 60195

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

A Susan Piccarda

ADDRESS

*553 America Court - Lake Zurich, IL
60049*

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Lyn M. Jiani

ADDRESS 3182 Moraine Dr. Aurora, IL 60506

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

David Weiman

ADDRESS

323 E Ontario
Chgo Ill
60611

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Barbara Stangin
ADDRESS Relief Medical Service
4845 W Dempsey
Skokie IL
60077

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME David Levy

ADDRESS PO Box 431, Madison Ave, 60053

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Maureen M Maloney

ADDRESS

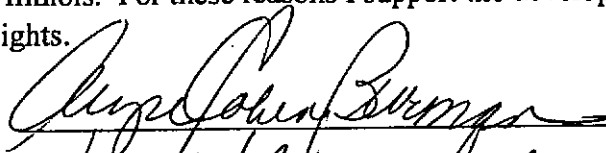

3649 N Monticello, Chicago IL 60618

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

or Richard M. Keen

ADDRESS

8330 S. Madison, Burr Ridge, IL 60527

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Barbara Kurtz Schuest

ADDRESS 240 S. IL RT. 59, Bartlett, IL 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Keely Houn
ADDRESS 1305 Stonewallbridge Ct, Bartlett, IL 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Kristin Arciola

ADDRESS

240 S. Route 59 Bartlett, IL 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Molly Dass

ADDRESS 240 S IL Route 59 Bartlett, IL 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Pamela Brandes
ADDRESS 140 N Chase Bartlett Ill 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Mary Colonna
ADDRESS 240 S. W. Route 59, Bartlett, IL 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Tom Keffo

ADDRESS

250 S. Route 59, Illinois 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS 240 S. IL Rt 59 Bartlett, IL 60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Doreen Sand
ADDRESS 1105 W. Bartlett Rd, Bartlett, IL
60103

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Nancy Rich Nancy Rich
ADDRESS 4515 N Cly Rd 100 E Frankfort, IN 46041

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

LEA L. EXSON

ADDRESS

1939 S. HADEN

Berwyn, IL. 60402

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Sandy Weiner
ADDRESS 1688 W Industrial dr Elmhurst, IL
60126

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME SONIA GUERNO

ADDRESS 2931 N. AUSTIN AVENUE

Chicago IL 60634

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Karee Gielmann

ADDRESS 2061 Arleen Ct.
Schaumburg, IL 60194

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME ERIKA CRUZ

ADDRESS 1749A VERMONT DR. ELK GROVE VILLAGE, IL 60007

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Rachel Flores

ADDRESS 3919 W. Foster Chicago, IL 60625

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Phil Allen

ADDRESS

1229 Virginia Dr. Westmont. IL 60589

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Patricia Wang

ADDRESS

1924 W. 56th St. LaGrange IL
60525

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME ERIN O'BOYLE

ADDRESS 2307 HAIDER AVE NAPERVILLE IL 60564

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Charles W. Ostrander

ADDRESS 1480 Renaissance Dr Suite 340
Park Ridge, Ill 60068

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

George B. Spivey

ADDRESS

2625 Tech 07 Rd Northbrook #2.

60062

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Andy Ostrander

ADDRESS 731 Raven Ln Bloomingdale 60108

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME MONICA VOJPIKSKY
ADDRESS 10741 S. WASHINGTON OAKTOWN IL 60453

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Susan Kubida

ADDRESS 85 Forest Blvd Park Forest IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Ruth Bunke

ADDRESS 1448 Foxfield Drive Aurora IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Kathy Repp

ADDRESS 1448 Foxfield Dr. Aurora IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Vicki Hill

ADDRESS

1110 Hawthorne # E Arlington HTS IL 60005

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Bob Johnson

ADDRESS

1067 Angleton Drive IL 60118

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Kathy Hankal

ADDRESS

8 South Lincoln Bstevia IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- Innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

J Kennedy

ADDRESS

*2110 Valley Creek Edgefield
60123*

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Joanne Gebell

ADDRESS 5740 Breezeland Rd.
Carpentersville, Ill 60110

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Carol Beth

ADDRESS 3114 Shenandoah Dr. Carpentersville, IL 60110

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Julia Fernandez

ADDRESS

716 Main Bensenville

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Richard Baumgartner

ADDRESS

~~4000~~ 400134 Stonbridge Way Elgin

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Laura Sloan

ADDRESS

111051 Lane Medical Dr

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Kathy Seyfer

ADDRESS

1725 State St Elgin IL 60123

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

x Charles J. Luge

ADDRESS

1725 State St Elgin IL 60123

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Nancy L. Saunders

ADDRESS

1725 No. State St. Elgin 60123

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Marge McCarthy

ADDRESS 955 Biesler, Elk Grove Village IL 60007

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Francis Isling

ADDRESS

765 Fletcher Elgin 60120

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME DAN SKISTON

ADDRESS 321 MCLEAN BENSENVILLE

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME BOB WILKE

ADDRESS 268 BARRON ST BENSenville

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- a partial solution to the area's state-defined need for 891 "beds" of this kind
- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME STAN MURPHY

ADDRESS 312 DAVENPORT WOOD DALE

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

David Hartsfield - D [Signature]

ADDRESS

230 S. LaSalle Chicag IL 60604

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

James W. Hrubik
537 N. Tyler St. C. FCC

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

James McDonnell

ADDRESS

6401 W 31ST ST Berwyn IL 60402

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

William W. W. W.

ADDRESS

24 Oxford Ave. South Grove, IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Jen Monderscheid

ADDRESS

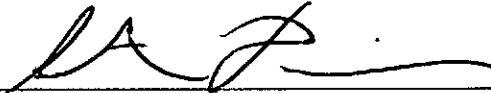

Bolingbrook, IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

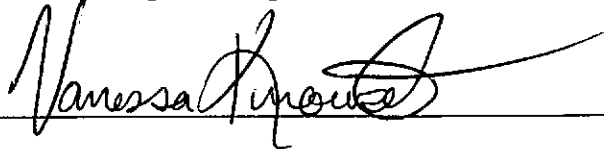

One University Parkway, Romeoville, IL 60446 P.O. 2297

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

10426 Dickens Ave, Melrose Pk, IL, 60164

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

3805 N. PITTSBURGH AVE.

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME John V. Sorese
ADDRESS 2520 Heritage Ck Dr. Lockport 60441
Lockport, IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Michael Rosenthal

ADDRESS

24701 PATRIOT SQUARE DR PLAINFIELD, IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Betty Rodrigz

ADDRESS

9040 Marmer Ave, Mount Grove, Ill
60053

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Spencer Puttan
ADDRESS 1251 W. Arthur Ave. Chicago, IL 60626

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Jeannette Ruoff

ADDRESS

1829 W. Leland Ave, Chgo. Ill. 60640

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Melissa Howitt

ADDRESS

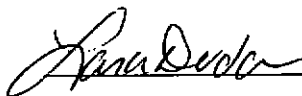

1957 W. Foster Ave, Chicago, IL 60640

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

210 Dover Circle Dover Lake Forest, IL 60045

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Constance J. Mory

ADDRESS

1153 HENTHROW CT. AURORA, IL.

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Barbara A. Zusk

ADDRESS

1153 Heathrow CT AURORA, IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Patricia H. Houlihan

ADDRESS

537 N. Tyler Rd.
St. Charles, IL.
60174

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Mary Faso

ADDRESS

212 W. 16th. ST. Chicago Hts, IL.
60411

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Betty J. Pinotes

ADDRESS

5705 Riverview Dr. Lisle, Ill. 60532

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME PAULINE A. FASO

ADDRESS 212 W. 16TH. ST. CHGO. HTS. IL. 60411

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Betty Carr

ADDRESS

1200 E. State.

GENEA IL 60134

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Alana Perinotes

ADDRESS

10201 S. Worth; Worth, IL 60482

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME PATRICIA LUECKE

ADDRESS 11921 S. 74TH. AVE. PALOS HTS, 60463

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Laurel Merabelli

ADDRESS

~~10741~~ 10741 So. Washington
Oak Lawn, IL

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Patricia Hollibaugh

ADDRESS 537 N. Tyler Rd. St Charles IL 60174

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Dr. James Houlihan

ADDRESS

One University Parkway
Romeoville IL 60446-2200

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME Erin Vogt

ADDRESS PO Box 1143 W. Dundee IL 60118

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Andrea Simms

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Marie Perkins

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Roy J. Perkins

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "P. R. ...", written over a horizontal line.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

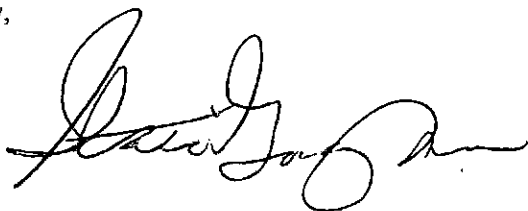

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

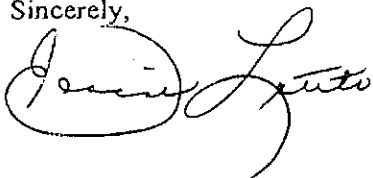

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

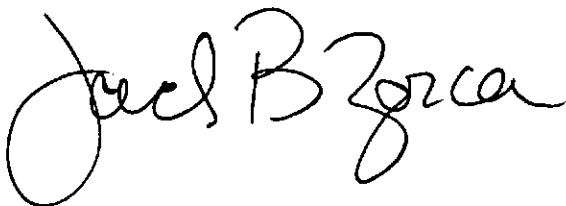

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Steele M. Palumbo R.N.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

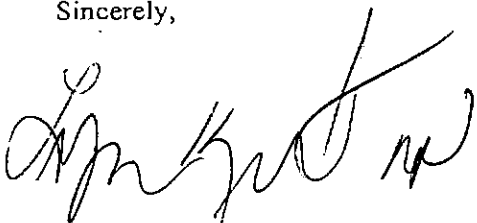

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "L. J. [unclear]", written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

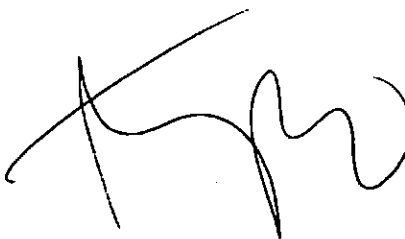

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

 TESSIE
RN

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "B. H. M.", is written below the word "Sincerely,".

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

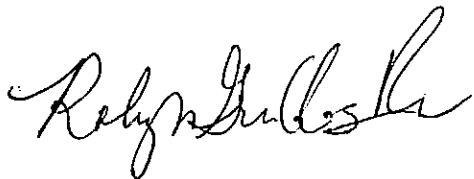

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "Paul [unclear] [unclear]". The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned below the "Sincerely," text.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Margu H. Par

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "V. Pede RN". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "M. White", written over a horizontal line.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, consisting of several loops and a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

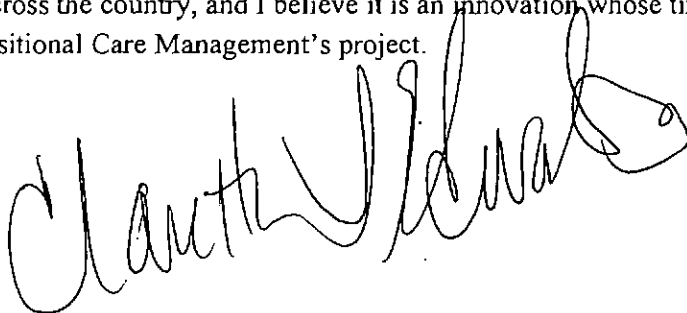

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "M. J. [unclear]", is written over a vertical double-line border on the right side of the page.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

 Elaine Smith, RN

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

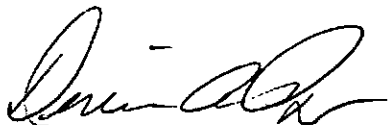

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "D. A. [unclear]".

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Mary Kemp, RN, CRNI

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

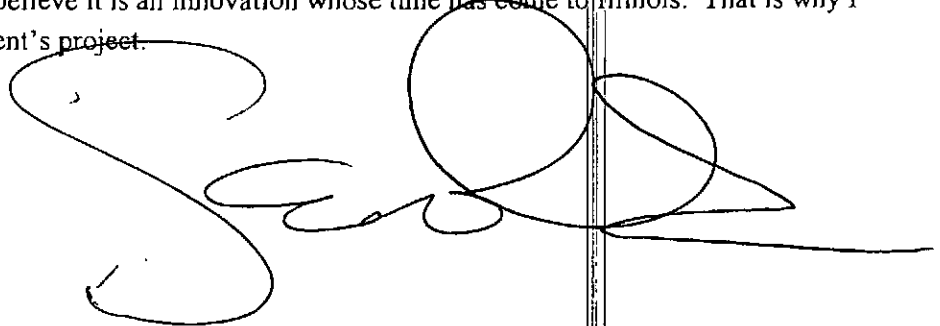

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A large, stylized handwritten signature in black ink, written over a vertical line that runs down the page. The signature is cursive and appears to be the name of the sender.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

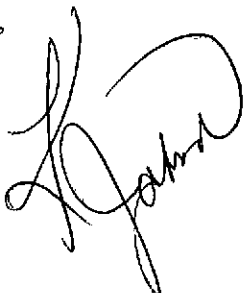

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "John", written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

M. Mandel. M.D.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Irene Becker, RN

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of-stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

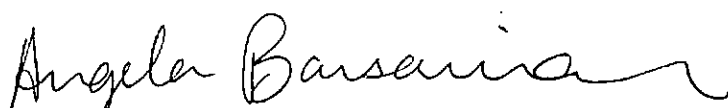

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'B. Loh' or similar, written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

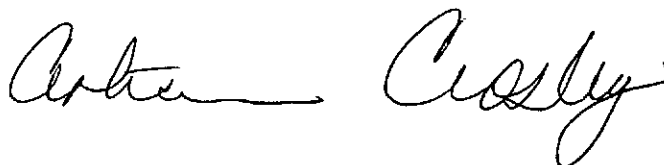

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Arthur Cassidy". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Angela Hodges". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned at the bottom left of the page, below the "Sincerely," text.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Kazuhiko", followed by the initials "RN" in a smaller, less stylized font.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be the initials 'NA' or similar, written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Ligette Jerney". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the typed name.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

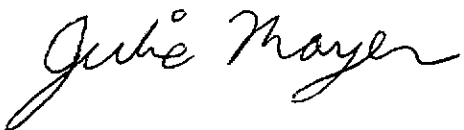

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Patricia Mayfield

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be a stylized name, possibly "Michael".

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "W. Kemp", written over the word "Sincerely,".

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "D. J. [unclear]", written in a cursive style.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Christina", written in a cursive style.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

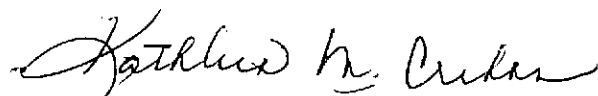

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

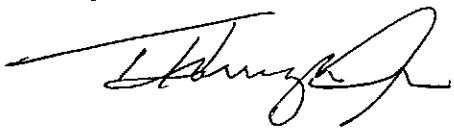

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "L. H. ...", written in a cursive style.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

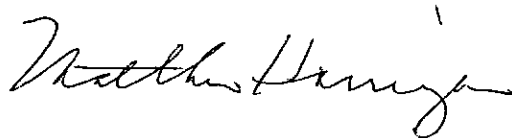

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Megan Harrigan

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

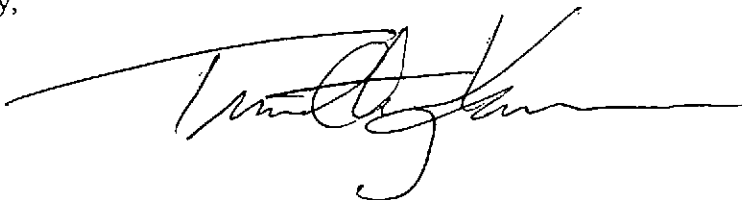

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Tommy" followed by a surname that is partially obscured by a vertical line on the right side of the page.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Kevin S. Francese". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the "Sincerely," text.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

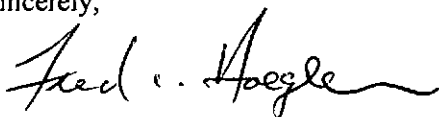

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "David G. [unclear]", with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'A. Edh' or similar, written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering-Costs -

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

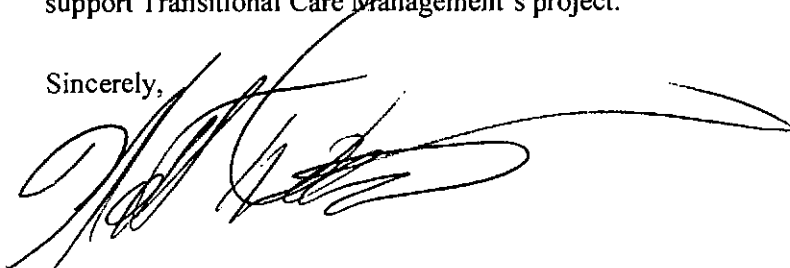

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A large, stylized handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be a cursive name, positioned below the text "Sincerely,".

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "Judy S. [unclear]".

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

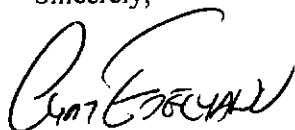

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

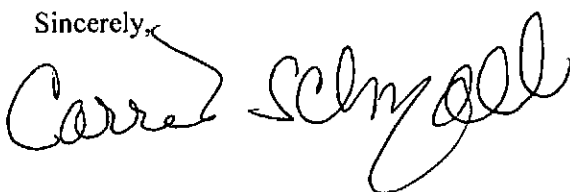

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Melanie Smith". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the "Sincerely," text.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

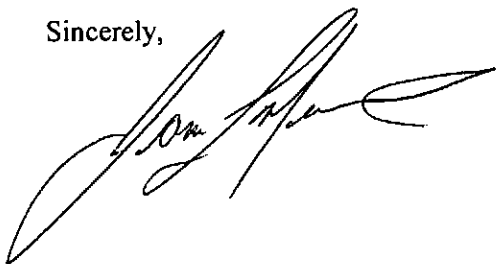

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "Tom Spivey", written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher.

Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

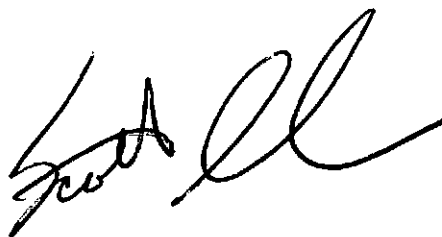

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's Arlington Heights project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "Scott", written in a cursive style.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "J. J. [unclear]", written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher.

Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

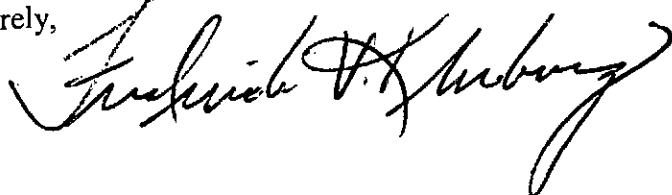

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Arlington Heights. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's Arlington Heights project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals—"sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

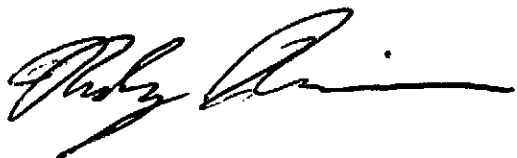

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "D. H." followed by a long horizontal line.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

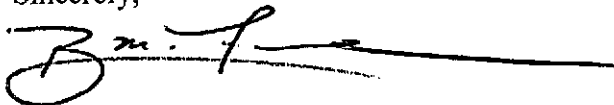

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "B. J. ...", with a long horizontal line extending to the right.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'D. Hill'.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'R. Long', written in a cursive style.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital-care to high-acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

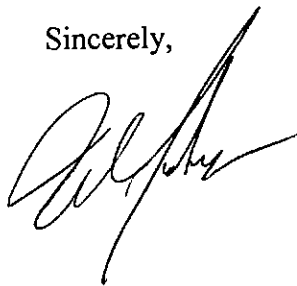

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "Ed. [unclear]", written in a cursive style.

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury, surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

As a healthcare professional, I believe that Transitional Care Management (TCM) proposes a highly innovative model of care that combines the best clinical, rehabilitative and hospitality services in a spa-like setting. TCM will offer a new path to wellness for patients who are bridging the distance between hospital and home.

Redefining the Healthcare Continuum

Operating sub acute care in a hospital setting is a costly proposition that is also typically a less desirable setting for patients who are recovering from illness or injury. In fact, in Arlington Heights, the local hospital does not offer these services. As a result, the only local option for sub acute care is a traditional nursing home, which, with its inherent institutional nature and primarily long-term patient population, is not necessarily the ideal setting for many patients who are on the road to recovery.

Lowering Costs

Transitional Care provides the opportunity to care for patients in a non-institutional setting earlier in the rehabilitation process thereby reducing length of stay in the hospital where costs are higher. Additionally, due to the specialized nature of the services provided, Transitional Care affords patients the opportunity to regain maximum capacity more quickly adding more long-term cost savings.

Specialized Care

With stand-alone transitional care, practitioners focus exclusively on restoring function lost through injury; surgery or disease with the goal of helping patients reduce pain, hasten recovery and increase performance. This specialized focus is not as predominant in generalist settings that offer a variety of care levels and support multiple care goals.

Higher Staffing Ratios

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights intends to run a nurse-to-resident ratio that is double the industry average with a substantially greater proportion of RNs to LPNs than is typically seen.

Evidenced-based Design

Evidence shows that environment plays a significant role in patient experience and outcomes. Healing design, like that which TCM proposes, can improve a patient's outlook on care, increase patient satisfaction and ultimately help support a client's journey toward recovery.

By providing an alternative to institutional care, TCM is redefining the healthcare continuum and offering cost effective, specialized care in a manner that is more appealing to today's consumer. This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come to Illinois. That is why I support Transitional Care Management's project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

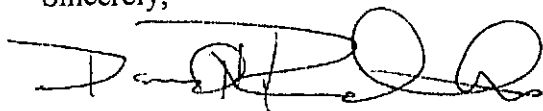

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "D. H. [unclear]", written over a horizontal line.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high-acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Urian Shoglen

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Ana Rivera". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high-acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high-acuity patients-who-are-increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

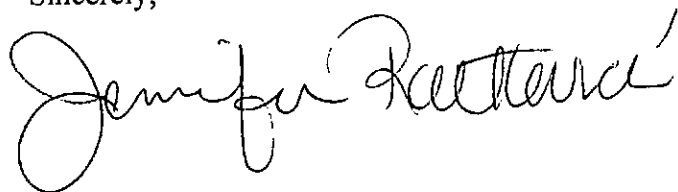

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jennifer Rattner". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Victor Allen

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced to leave hospitals "sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Morton L. Peterson

1012 S. Kembley Ave
Palatine, IL 60067

Illinois Health Facilities and Services Review Board
525 West Jefferson Street, Second Floor
Springfield, Illinois 62761

To whom it may concern,

I am concerned about the availability of quality options as they relate to the availability of health care in the Northwest suburbs. Ensuring that we have adequate and top notch access to short-term rehabilitative services is important to me.

Top Quality Care and Expertise

I understand that Transitional Care Management will bring quality post-acute care to our community. In particular, Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will provide post-hospital-care to high acuity patients who are increasingly forced-to-leave hospitals-"sicker and quicker" these days. Some go home with limited home care and have no family members available to provide the additional support they need. Others who need this important level of care may need to go outside the area for services.

Holistic Approach in a Wellness Center Setting

While there are other excellent acute rehabilitation facilities in the area, many are either fully occupied, only serve acute needs, are outdated or are restricted to serving special populations. Furthermore, not all are capable of handling the high acuity patient that will be served by Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights or the patient who prefers to recover in a non-institutional/nursing home setting.

Healing our Residents and Helping our Economy

The development of Transitional Care Center of Arlington Heights will bring innovation and address a specific and under-served need in the Arlington Heights and surrounding communities while rounding out a complement of fine medical services.

I appeal to you and members of the Health Facilities and Services Review Board to lend your support to this new project.

Sincerely,

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Thomas Mueller

ADDRESS

Arlington Heights

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Ana Mendoza

ADDRESS

3607 Bluebird Ln Rolling Meadows
126008

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Norwin B Poole

ADDRESS

310 N. Pine Ave AH-

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Northern World M. H. H. H.

ADDRESS

Arl. Hts. 315 E. Euclid

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Amy Arp

ADDRESS

Arlington HTS, IL 60005

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

David Johnson

ADDRESS

3105 Dove Ct Rolling Meadows

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Mindy Joyce

ADDRESS

1411 W. Fremont St. A.H. IL 60005

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

Dr John A Bartel

ADDRESS

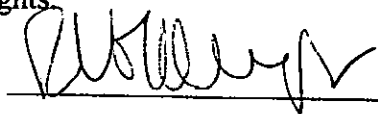

1511 N Harvard Ave AH

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

CLEWELYN

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

BRUCE LUNRY

ADDRESS

ARLINGTON HTS

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

John Down

ADDRESS

Hoffman Estates

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

SHWETA SHAH

ADDRESS

SCHAUMBURG.

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

MAUREEN Beck

ADDRESS

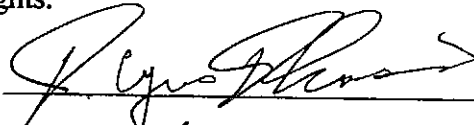

Arlington Hts IL 60005

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

ADDRESS

Arl. Hts.

Transitional Care of Arlington Heights will offer:

- innovation and consumer choice
- an alternative to institutional, rehabilitative care
- a quality, non-denominational post-hospitalization care alternative
- a specialized focus on post-hospitalization rehabilitation
- higher nurse staffing ratios than traditional nursing home care that translate to better response times, higher patient satisfaction and better overall care.
- taxes that further support our community.
- care for all residents including Medicaid recipients.
- coordination with area physicians/hospitals to offer top quality rehabilitative care.
- primarily private rooms with private baths
- comfortable accommodations for patients, family and guests
- thoughtful conveniences to minimize disruption and offer patients privacy
- a hotel/spa-like feel, amenities and other features that help promote comfort, healing and overall wellbeing.

This is a trend that is happening across the country, and I believe it is an innovation whose time has come for Illinois. For these reasons I support the development of Transitional Care of Arlington Heights.

NAME

LANCE LEDERMAN

ADDRESS

PALATINE